For Immediate Release

Professor provides free e-portfolio, web portfolio, and website tools at Portfoliovillage.com

(Massapequa Park, NY – July 25, 2009) Dr. John DiMarco, a professor at St. John's University in New York, announced the launch of PortfolioVillage.com, a free web portfolio and website creation website. The site provides free web portfolio server space, an online website-maker, and website addresses for students, teachers, graduates, and jobseekers at colleges, universities, k-12 schools, and libraries.

Dr. John DiMarco, creator and President of PortfolioVillage, Inc. said, "The desire to help students, teachers, graduates, job seekers, freelancers, and entrepreneurs succeed has been a driving force for me in the development of PortfolioVillage.com. The goal was to give everyone an opportunity and the necessary resources needed to create a web portfolio or professional website for free". Dr. DiMarco added, "My team and I set out to create a professional space on the web that provides a platform for people to easily succeed with technology and the Internet. I am proud to say that PortfolioVillage provides the tools needed for anyone to create an impressive web portfolio, e-portfolio, or professional website without technical skills".

-MORE-

PortfolioVillage.com's state-of-the-art software offers an easy to use editing interface which allows members to create an impressive portfolio and powerful website that highlights professional skills and experience. The site provides over 1,000 website template combinations for academic, personal, professional, business or club/group websites. An extensive library of features is offered to customize websites including image tools, clipart, gradient effects, themable widgets, video widgets, and e-commerce tools.

Additionally, each PortfolioVillage member receives a professional website address and server space, (www.yourname.portfoliovillage.com) ideal for job interviews, freelance work, internship and graduate school applications, promotion and tenure applications, and offering professional services. Fee based packages with additional features are also available.

PortfolioVillage, Inc. was founded in 2005 by web portfolio researcher and career skills expert, Dr. John DiMarco. The company consists of a team of educators, designers, programmers, and technology consultants. The PortfolioVillage mission is to help students, teachers, graduates, and jobseekers learn and grow professionally by providing web portfolio products, seminars, and training.
