Portfolios Promote People.

Students, teachers, professors, and job-seekers all need to create web portfolios to help promote themselves in highly competitive economies and job environments. A Web Portfolio is a Personal Web Site. It presents your skills, abilities, and experience at whatever you do professionally or as a student. Creative and professional work and information that you are proud of should be displayed in your web portfolio.

Web Portfolios Made Easy.

Connecting people with technology requires eliminating obstacles. The reasons people don't create their own websites includes a lack of web design skills, difficult coding & software, confusion about the process, and the costs.
